FRONT COVER

Barnet's new Carnival Princess is Chantel Shafie, aged nine, of Beaufort Park, Garden Suburb, who attends Brookland School. Her attendants are Thandi Ojeer, 12, of Kings Close, Hendon, and Radha Rajjotia, nine, of Howard Walk, East Finchley. Chantel was crowned by the Mayor, Cllr Don Goodman, at a carnival launch at Oak Lodge School, with maypole dancing to celebrate. As a special prize Chantel will accompany the Mayor for a day on June 26.

FLORIDA HERE WE COME

A local businessman has been so impressed with the work in Barnet Schools under the TVEI (Technical and Vocational Education Initiative) that he has sponsored a visit to the Epcot Center in Florida for four students.

TVEI draws together academic studies with job and career related subjects. Four Barnet secondary schools and a special school have been taking part in a pilot scheme to set up TVEI studies. Now the initiative is going borough-wide with extension to sixth form work.

The businessman, who wishes to remain anonymous, helped to fund the study trip abroad for four students as a prize for the best project and presentation work on a study of Ghana. The four prizewinners, and two teachers, will leave on June 5 and return on June 13, staying in Orlando.

Steve has a 'smash' hit

MILL Hill singer and Musicians' Union member, Steve Edwards (pictured right), hit back at pirates who market fake cassettes when, with the aid of a sledgehammer, he helped Barnet Council's Trading Standards officers destroy almost 400 counterfeit tapes.

The tapes were being offered for sale in Barnet Hill, Barnet, last September when they were seized by Trading Standards staff.

A court ruling, the first of its kind to be granted to Barnet Council, ordered the tapes to be destroyed. Steve, 25, of the group The Mix condemned the pirates. 'It is not only the musicians and recording companies who lose, so do the public. In return for their money they get poor tape quality and an inferior product.'

The singer is due to return to Norway in August following recent successful appearances in Oslo and has other engagements in Germany next month. In the meantime The Mix is performing weekly at various North London venues.

Assistant Chief Trading Standards Officer, Peter Ridehalgh, said the court order in this case specified destruction. Should any similar situations arise, the Council would seek court permission to recycle pirated tapes for charity.

Open week at Garden Suburb Institute

HAMPSTEAD Garden Suburb Institute's annual Open Week at Central Square NW11, from June 27 to 29, offers the customary wide variety of exhibitions, open classes and events promoting the Institute's activities as both an adult education and community centre.

Many teachers, as well as existing students, will be on hand to meet visitors, advise and show what can be done on the Institute's courses which currently number well over 200 and cover subject areas like art and craft, foreign languages, general interests, physical activities, health, London University extra mural courses and junior courses. People who wish to book early for the 1988/89 programme will be able to do so on the spot to avoid disappointment.

On Wednesday, June 29, local societies and organisations have their chance to capture the interest of the public with stalls and displays in Bigwood Hall and on the same night the prizes will be presented to the winning artists in the Dorothy Copsey Watercolour Competition. This is an annual event with a first prize of £100 and commemorates one of the Institute's distinguished former art teachers. Competition entries will be exhibited in the Tea House, Northway throughout Open Week.

Opening hours are from 6.30-9pm on each of the three days and admission is free. Early booking and further details from the Institute. Tel. 455 9951.

Chaville anniversary

IN 1958 the former Friern Barnet Urban District Council established a twinning link with Chaville, a town about six miles from Paris, adjoining Sevres (of porcelain fame), and two miles from Versailles.

To mark the 30th anniversary The Friends of Chaville Society has produced a leaflet entitled 'A Short History.' The text, written by Cliff Jeremy, an enthusiast of the twinning for many years, tells about the effects of the formation of the Borough of Barnet in 1964 and the continuing exchanges of both children and adults for a variety of activities. The contacts can and do lead to permanent friendships.

Cover

The cover for the leaflet was designed by Mark Lloyd, a student of graphic design at Barnet College. Copies of the leaflet are available from Mrs J. Copping, secretary, of 17 Steynings Way, North Finchley N12 7LN, Tel 446 4214.

She will be pleased to answer enquiries and make contact with people interested in becoming involved with the twinning. At present the society is looking for an exchange between adults currently learning French and their counterparts in Chaville.

The current year's programme of activities has already started and this May a group of swimmers will visit Chaville and in June the Barnet Table Tennis Centre will entertain guests from Chaville. A table tennis social and barbecue evening will be held at the centre on June 4.

Later in the summer Finchley Manor Lawn Tennis Club will play hosts to visitors from the twin town and in the autumn Barnet artists will submit entries to the Salon Josette Bossez art exhibition in Chaville.

New directory planned

TO assist local companies Barnet Council's Planning Group are collecting information for their publication of a Barnet Business Directory in August.

It is not intended to duplicate information already contained in directories already on public sale. The aim of the new directory is to cover all types of manufacturing, wholesale distribution, transport operations and buildings as well as the many forms of services to business such as accountants, solicitors, estate agents, printers, construction companies, insurance consultants, hire services, caterers, courier services and employment agencies. It will also contain a business profile of the borough and list addresses of Central and Local Government offices and public utilities.

Letters have been sent to more than 1,000 local businesses explaining the purpose of the directory and enclosing a form on which details of the firms products should be set out. All those taking part in the directory will receive a complimentary copy but there will be a charge for those who do not.

Companies which have not received a letter should contact Geoff Muggerridge in the Planning Group at Barnet House, Tel. 446 8511 ext 4664.

Mornings-only service

THE LENGTH of waiting for services to physically handicapped people has been causing concern. To assist in reducing the lists, it has been decided to close the Services for Physically Handicapped Persons Team office every afternoon from May 1 until the end of the year.

This will release occupational therapists from the office at Fibboard House, Oakleigh Gardens, Whetstone, to make visits to those requiring assessment and services.

The Director of Barnet's Social Services, Alan Gorst, said he hoped the arrangement would cause the least inconvenience to the users of the Borough's service.

Duty Officers will be available every morning from 9am until 12.30pm. In the afternoons an Ansaphone message will advise callers of a number to be called in case of an emergency.

The Director has emphasised that all referrals to the Team should be made in writing, unless they are very urgent.

BE A GOOD NEIGHBOUR

THE Good Neighbour Scheme in the Muswell Hill area of the Borough of Barnet has been operating on a part-time basis since last November, and is well on the way to establishing a network of people in the area who are willing to help, befriend and support one another.

Services

A wide variety of requests including shopping, visiting and escorting have been carried out for such people as the elderly, infirm, disabled, the lonely and isolated.

If you can offer your help or would like to make a request for a service, please contact Bobby Thornton on 883 3625. The scheme would also welcome requests from social workers, general practitioners, district nurses, health visitors and others serving the community.

Nature Notes

JUNE

By Clive Herbert

This month is an ideal time to begin to discover the many fascinating creatures living in our ponds. Although, sadly, a significant number of Barnet's ponds have been lost — and others devalued through lack of management — there are still plenty of opportunities to study aquatic life.

The series of ponds on Hadley Green is one of the best in North London whilst in the south of the borough, the former GLC restored some good ponds on the Hampstead Heath Extension.

Readers wishing to explore this habitat can join my evening class on June 14, meeting at 7.15pm by the southern pond on the Heath Extension. (Cost £2.40 adult, £1.50 OAPS, students).

For people wanting to enjoy a general natural history evening the Herts and Middx Wildlife Trust are holding a meeting on June 10. This will include a short walk, followed by a barbeque and bat watch. Meet in the car park at Moat Mount Open Space, on the A1 Barnet Way, at 7.30pm.

June is also one of the leading months for finding bats in houses. Anyone needing advice in these circumstances can telephone me on 440 6314. I am always happy to visit roosts as they provide valuable information about these difficult-to-study mammals. Casual sightings can also be of value — so eyes open at dusk please!

Watch on Wildlife

ANOTHER wildlife club for young people is being launched this month. The new Mill Hill Watch Club — part of the Herts and Middx Wildlife Trust — will hold its first meeting entitled "Animal Antics" on Wednesday, June 8 from 6.45 — 8.15pm. The club will be based in Daws Lane, Mill Hill, at the Sea Cadet/Training Centre next to the car park.

Children wishing to join in the events of the new group, which will meet twice a month, must be over the age of eight. For the cost of just 30p per meeting, members will be able to take part in a full range of wildlife-related activities. There will also be a large, colourful newsletter packed with projects, competitions and many other things to do.

The following month will include a Pond Dipping afternoon on July 3 (2 — 4.30pm) and a Minibeast Safari on July 13 (6.45 — 8.15pm). For more details of the new club or of other WATCH activities in Barnet and Finchley, contact Clive Herbert on 440-6314 (after 6 pm).

Don't miss this opportunity to explore the wonderful world of wildlife!

BATWATCH

A guided batwatch tour organised by the Leisure Link section of Barnet Council's Recreation Department on July 1 at Darlands Lake will begin at 8.30pm.

Anyone wishing to join the one and a half mile walk should meet at The Close, next to the Orange Tree public house, Totteridge Lane, Totteridge.

The tour, which is free, will be led by Derek Warren of the Herts and Middlesex Wildlife Trust.

CROSSWORD

THIS month we are publishing the first in a series of crossword puzzles which, if we obtain a successful response, will be a regular feature in Borough News.

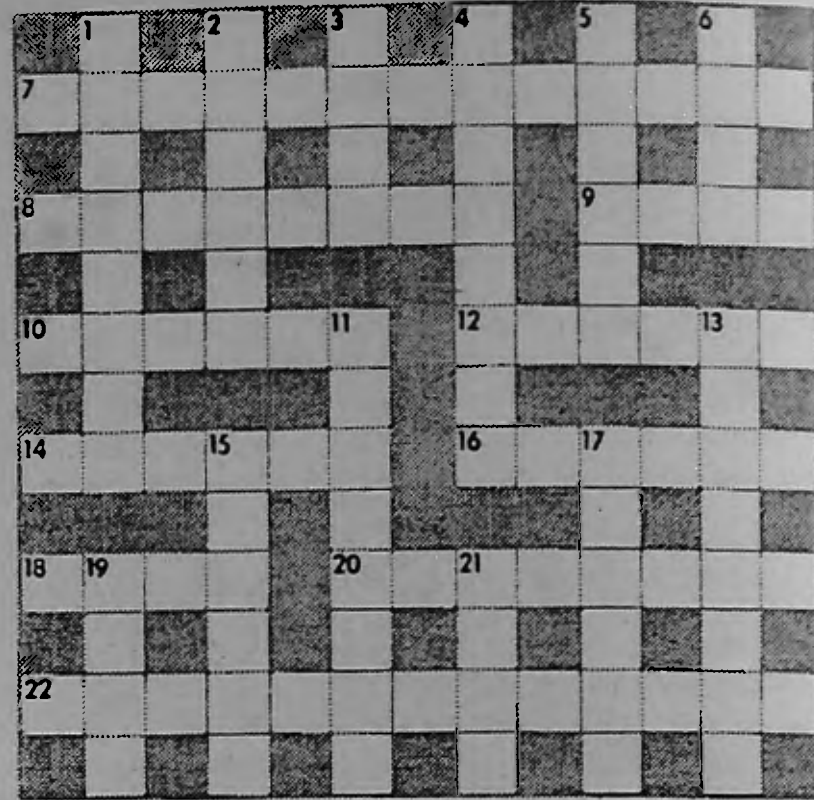

The first correct entry drawn out of a hat will receive a £5 book token. Entries should reach the Editor, Barnet Borough News, Town Hall, The Burroughs, Hendon NW4 4BG by June 17.

PLANNING FOR THE 1990s

A chance to make your views known to the planners

BARNET residents and the local business community have an opportunity to have their views considered on the strategic planning and development of London in the 1990s.

LPAC — the London Planning Advisory Committee — has just published a draft of its advice to the Government on what it believes strategic planning guidelines should be for London in the next decade.

Public consultation plays an important part in the preparation of such guidelines and LPAC is seeking comments from everyone who is interested in the future of London.

Advice role

LPAC is a joint committee of representatives from all the London Borough Council Planning Committees. It has the task of advising the Government on planning issues in the Capital and is currently advising the Secretary of State for the Environment who will be issuing strategic guidance for Greater London in 1989.

These strategic guidelines will provide the context within which Barnet and all the other London Boroughs, will be required to produce Unitary Development Plans to guide development in their own areas. This will have a considerable influence on the way in which the character of the Borough will change over the next decade.

These changes will affect the environment and the quality of life for people living or working in the borough and this consultation period offers an opportunity for everyone to contribute to the debate.

Comments

The draft advice drawn up by LPAC, together with comments received by July 8 from businesses, groups and individual residents, will be reported to Barnet's Town Planning and Research Committee at their meeting at the Town Hall, Hendon, on July 13.

The views of the committee, together with all the comments received, will be passed to LPAC at the end of July. Comments arriving too late for the Town Planning and Research Committee will still be forwarded to LPAC provided they reach Barnet prior to July 29.

Copies of the LPAC draft, called Strategic Planning Advice for London — Policies for the 1990s will be available (for reference only) in local libraries and at Barnet House, 1255 High Road, Whetstone N20 0EJ and the Information Office, Ravensfield House, The Burroughs, Hendon NW4 4BE as soon as they are received from LPAC in early June.

Main topics

The main topics covered are:

- Housing
- Open Space and the Green Environment
- Shopping
- Economy and Employment
- Traffic and Transportation
- Physical Environment
- Skylines and High Buildings
- Tourism
- Physical Structure

Anyone wishing to make comments on the draft document or on any related aspect of planning for the future development of London should send them to The Controller of Development Services, Barnet House, 1255 High Road, Whetstone N20 0EJ.

New Members

NEW members will be welcome at Barnet Air Rifle and Pistol Club which meetings at Hendon Sports Centre, Algernon Road, Hendon on Tuesdays and Fridays. Contact Mr G. Tugwell 10-952 8711.

College offers hotel courses

HENDON College, who this year won two gold medals at Hotel Olympia, is launching a new series of full-time and part-time courses for people looking for a career in the hotel and catering industry. The courses start in September at the College's Grahame Park site.

The college already has well established links with the catering industry through its Bakery Courses. The standard of work is very high and it was two students on this course who went for gold at Hotel Olympia, facing strong, international competition.

Chefs and cooks

One of the new courses on offer from September will be the City and Guilds 706 Certificate, aimed at people who wish to be professional chefs and cooks. This certificate is recognised throughout the hotel and catering industry as the major qualification for people working in food production.

For people less sure about which area of the hotel and catering industry they wish to enter the City and Guilds 705 General Catering Certificate provides an opportunity to learn about food preparation and production skills as well as work in accommodation studies, reception and food service skills.

COPTHALL Show this year brings together 18 sports, a horse show and a fun fair, with the accent on taking part or enjoying the show as a spectator. Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 10, 11 and 12, are the dates to remember and the venue is the Barnet Copthall Sports Centre, with entrances from the Great North Way, Hendon, and Page Street, Mill Hill.

One of the biggest events is the Middlesex Schools Athletic Championships with young athletes from nine London boroughs competing. They will represent Barnet, Brent, Ealing, Enfield, Haringey, Harrow, Hillingdon, Hounslow and Richmond-upon-Thames.

The Middlesex team to compete in the All England Schools Championship in Yeovil on July 8 and 9 will be chosen from this event.

Preliminary heats will take place on Friday evening, starting at 6pm and on Saturday morning, with the finals starting at 1.45pm on Saturday. The Mayors or their representatives of the nine boroughs will be present. The prizes will be presented throughout the afternoon with the shields and trophies presentation at 5.30pm.

A new event is the British Petanque Grand Prix. Ninety clubs compete in four meetings for premier placings in this sport which resembles the French game of boules.

The Ladies Modern Pentathlon once again features horse riding, fencing, swimming, shooting and a 2km cross country run.

The horse show will certainly be one of the biggest attractions of the show, with a full range of Western Riding on Saturday and show jumping, showing, fancy dress and gymkhana on Sunday. See them lasso and manoeuvre like cowboys or jump like Horse of the Year show competitors.

In the Copthall Swimming Pools the senior age groups and open Borough Swimming Championships will be held on Friday evening, with the junior age group competitions for 10- to 12-year-olds taking place on Saturday evening.

On Sunday the stadium is a scene of contrasts with the Young Athletes Competitions in the morning and the Veterans Athletics in the afternoon, start at 1.30pm.

Out on the playing field area Friday sees a new Six-a-Side Primary Schools Cricket competition at 4.30pm. Williams Sports and Leisure of North Finchley have presented a trophy and a strong entry is expected.

On Saturday there is coaching for pop lacrosse, ladies hockey, the Primary Schools cricket continues; there is archery; youth division grass track motor cycling; senior cricket featuring Hendon St. Mary's and Hendon RF Cricket Club; Moto Ball (football on motor cycles); Gaelic football; hurling; and the Copthall Show Motor Cycling Championships.

Copthall — Super Show

June 10, 11 and 12

There is also a senior six-a-side Football tournament being run by St. Mary CC with 16 teams taking part and a ladies' 6-a-side soccer tournament run by Barnet Sport MSC coaches.

On Sunday the kids can enjoy Meynell Games with their giant earth balls and parachutes. Moto Ball and grass track continue and it is the day of the road races.

At 11am there's the 10km open road race and at 12 noon the veterans and ladies race starts.

All through the show there is the fun fair and there will be a display of Triumph Cars on Sunday.

There's free admission and free parking. Refreshments are available and there are plenty of good spots for picnics.

The major sponsor for the show is Williams Sport and Leisure. Other sponsors include Abbeyford Motor Company, Axco Instruments, Barnet Riding School, Belmont Riding Centre, Drylights Fluorescent Riding Wear, Frith Manor Livery Stables, Philip Jeffreys (Photographer) and Thomas Tack plus support from John Laing plc and Markheath Securities.

Programmes are now available at libraries or the Information Office, Ravensfield House, The Burroughs, Hendon, and schedules and programmes can be obtained from The Shows Office, Barnet House, 1255 High Road, Whetstone N20 0EJ. Tel. 446 8511 ext 4492.

Honour for an International Man

Frank Gibson awarded the Freedom of the Borough

Scroll of Freedom — left to right, The Mayoress, Adelaide Lester, the Deputy Mayor, Cllr Fred Poole, the Mayor, Cllr Malcolm Lester, the Deputy Mayoress, Mrs Phyllis Poole, Frank Gibson, Mr. Michael Bennett, Town Clerk, and Mrs Betty Gibson.

Barnet Council has awarded its highest honour — the Freedom of the Borough — to former Mayor and Councillor Frank Gibson, whose service to his local community stretched out to Europe, Israel and the United States.

Frank Gibson is an international man who believes that friendship and understanding, between the people of many nations, pave the roads to peace.

The hand-engraved velum recording the grant of Honorary Freedom of the Borough, was presented at a ceremony, held in the Town Hall, Hendon, on Wednesday, April 27. It was an occasion of civic dignity, spiced with laughter.

Councillors recalled his service to local government over 36 years. Speeches were made in French and English, in recognition of the Mayor and delegates from Barnet's twin town, Le Raincy, and suddenly pomp and ceremony were set aside as Frank Gibson conducted a choir of councillors and guests in singing Happy Birthday to You to one of the French guests.

Cllr Norman Hirshfield set the scene for a mixture of solemnity and humour when he recalled Frank Gibson's long and devoted service — and pointed out that in the 12th Century worthy citizens could purchase the freedom of the borough for a few shillings. Today it was a priceless honour, paid for by a life of exceptional service.

Cllr Leslie Pym, Leader of the Council, added his tribute and Cllr Vic Usher recalled serving his apprenticeship to civic duty under the mastership of Frank Gibson, when they were both members of the former Finchley Council.

Cllr Tim Sims, adding his congratulations, said that while they often saw things from a different political point of view they had worked together for the benefit of the people of Barnet and with mutual respect and courtesy.

Many tributes were paid to Betty Gibson, herself a former councillor, who had given quiet support throughout Frank's years of Civic involvement.

Frank Gibson has lived in Finchley and Friern Barnet for nearly 50 years.

During the war he served in the Royal Artillery, spending two years in India. At the age of 25 he was elected to Finchley Borough Council and in 1961, at the age of 34, became Finchley's youngest Mayor.

It was at that period he first began his work towards international understanding. He founded the Finchley Council of Christians and Jews and is now a vice-president. In the same year he founded the Friends of Le Raincy for Finchley's twin town near Paris. His continued active interest in that organisation has led to his being made an honorary citizen of Le Raincy.

When the London Borough of Barnet was formed in 1965 he was elected to Council and represented the Totteridge and Friern Barnet wards.

In 1973 he was elected Mayor of Barnet and he introduced the old Finchley custom of choosing a Mayoral charity for the year of office. His appeal was in aid of luncheon clubs and day centres for senior citizens.

On the Council he was a highly respected chairman of the General Purposes and Public Works Committees.

He has taken a keen interest in the twin town activities of the borough, instigating a strong link with Montclair in New Jersey, USA, and encouraging the civic links with Ramat Gan in Israel. He is chairman of the Friends of Ramat Gan and of the Friends of Montclair.

Among his many community interests are the Anglo-Israel Friendship League of Finchley, the Finchley Old Peoples' Welfare Committee and the Borough of Barnet Voluntary Service Council.

He has served with the 393 ATC Squadron administrative committee, is a patron of Finchley and District Philatelic Society; a founder member of Finchley Senior Citizen's Housing Society and of the Barnet Anglo-Asian Conservative Association.

Since retiring from the Council in 1986 he has maintained his civic interest and is forming Friends of the Library organisations in each of the borough's four constituencies.

For his community and civic service he was awarded the OBE.

It should also be said that he has helped to write part of the history of the 20th Century. He was one of the selection panel who, 30 years ago, chose Margaret Thatcher as the candidate to stand for Finchley.

When he returned home after that selection panel and described the young woman whom they had chosen, his mother replied: 'If she is all you say she is then you have selected Britain's first woman Prime Minister'.

It was left to M. Raymond Mege, Mayor of Le Raincy, to sum up the nature of the borough's new honorary Freeman. 'Above all Frank Gibson is a man who has earned his freedom. He is a man who fights for peace.'

In high esteem

THE resolution awarding the Freedom of the Borough on Frank Gibson, was read by Michael Bennett, Chief Executive and Town Clerk.

'The Council of the London Borough of Barnet confer upon Frank Dale Gibson, OBE, who for 34 years was a Member of the Finchley Borough Council and of the London Borough of Barnet, until his retirement in May 1986, the Honorary Freedom of the London Borough of Barnet (Being the most honorable distinction it is the Council's privilege to bestow) in recognition of the eminent services rendered by him to the London Borough and to the former Finchley Borough Council and as an expression of the high esteem in which he is held by the inhabitants of the area.'

Frank Gibson signs the Roll of Freemen, watched by the Mayor.

Finchley Hospice: one step nearer

THE retiring Mayor, Cllr Malcolm Lester, saw his appeal in aid of the North London Hospice take a final leap. As his year ended the appeal stood at almost £130,000 and final adjustments will come in this month with this closing date at the end of June. To crown the year the Mayor, assisted by Rabbi Julia Neuberger, unveiled a sign board in Woodside Avenue, North Finchley, to announce the purchase of the site. He also received several cheques from organisations as diverse as a junior school and a snooker club. 'I am deeply conscious of the wonderful support that the people of Barnet have given me and the hard work of the Appeal Committee. I shall continue to work for the Hospice now that my year of office is over,' Cllr Lester said.

A TEAM, more familiar with handling a cue than a football, snookered themselves in a recent soccer charity match against a police team.

Members of Whetstone and Tally Ho Snooker Clubs, Finchley, lost 2-0 — one of the goals being put in his own net by the captain of the snooker team, John West, from Whetstone! The other goal was scored by Paul Ryan from the West Hendon Police team.

The Mayor of Barnet's Charity was the overall winner from the event at the Metropolitan Police Sports Ground, Bushey. More than £500 was raised for his appeal.

Trophy

A trophy for the winning team and individual trophies for both teams were donated by David Hines from the Tally Ho Snooker Club and it is hoped the charity match will become an annual event.

Tally Ho members also walked away with competition prizes including £100 worth of clothing vouchers from Aitch Group, Colindale and a voucher from Otis Hairdressers, Finchley.

Floating Funds

CHILDREN from Goodwyn School, Mill Hill, raised £860.90 in aid of the Mayor of Barnet's Appeal for the new hospice. The children, aged four to 10, swam in the sponsored swim, held at Copthall Pools in March. In the picture the mayor, Cllr Malcolm Lester, admires the commemorative cheque surrounded by swimmers and children from the school — Thomas Walker, Ben Walker, Chloe Michaels, Tara Moses, Gemma Rubenstein, Philip Brainin, Stephen Lowy, Claire Passer, Stacey Cowen, Jodi Saul, Joshua Golding and Robert Cowen.

A kiss for the landlady

A KISS for Mrs Pat Cooney, landlady of the Joiners Arms, Ballards Lane, Finchley, from the Mayor, and Deputy Mayor, Cllr Fred Poole, while landlord Jim Cooney holds the presentation cheque. The pub's customers raised a total of £1,298 including £600 from the pool team, £200 from a sponsored walk and £162 from a raffle. On the same night the Mayor also collected a cheque from the Orange Tree in Totteridge Lane.

Summer adventure:

For American children the idea of Summer Camp is one they have grown up with, counting the days till they wave goodbye to Mom and Pop and join the team at some shore or lakeside venue. But for English children it is a new, exciting idea.

And here in Barnet are the pioneers.

Judy Davies, the director of Experience UK, better known as X.UK, runs children's holiday camps and leisure activities from her base in Friern Barnet.

One of the big differences from the American concept is that X.UK camps can be residential or day based and at present Judy and operations manager Jeremy Fow, are busy putting in the final preparations for this Summer's activities.

The camps have been operating for 20 years. Day camps are held at Queen Elizabeth's Boys School, Barnet, and North London Collegiate School, Edgware, and cater for young people aged three to 14. The residential camps in Hampshire and Avon are for the age group six to 18.

Every camp is under careful supervision. The staff are trained and there is a member of staff for every five children. Instructors are qualified and X.UK is a founder member of the British Activity Holiday Association.

At the camps the children have a vast choice of activity, including drama, dance, motorcycling, Go-karts arts and crafts, archery, tennis, swimming, and even driving lessons and paracending. There's ice skating, bowling, sailing, surfing and dry skiing, and the children are encour-

Warming up those winter blues

IF Barnet's housing team have their way winter blues with burst pipes and 'through the roof' heating bills will be a thing of the past for council tenants. The Housing Committee have approved a co-ordinated plan to use a mix of Government grants, the NACRO scheme, and tenants' contributions to carry out pipe and loft insulation in council housing.

Loft insulation

There have been major changes in the Government's Loft Insulation Grant scheme. The general 66 per cent grant has been withdrawn. At the same time the 90 per cent grant, previously available only to pensioners and severely disabled people, has been extended to all householders and tenants who receive rent or rate rebates through housing benefits; income support or family credit.

Any applicant for the general 66 per cent grant who got their request in by February 1 this year was still eligible. In order that these private sector applicants should get the grant Barnet applied to the Department of the Environment for an additional Home Insulation Scheme allocation of £9,000. This was granted. Then the Home Improvement Grants Section gave priority to processing all applications made prior to the deadline.

Barnet's Housing and Environmental Health Service has already established a link with NACRO whose community programme, manned by unemployed people, has been very successful in helping people on low incomes to insulate and draughtproof their homes.

Since the link was set up NACRO have taken on extra manpower and have carried out 100 loft insulations and 150 draughtproofing jobs in Barnet in both the public and private housing sector. Where the work is carried out in council housing the only cost is materials — an average of £35 per property. The labour is free.

So far the work has been carried out in Council houses and flats which have been particularly vulnerable to frozen pipes.

Now NACRO will be able to extend the loft insulation service to all council tenants who qualify for the 90 per cent loft insulation grant. All they will have to pay is 10 per cent of the cost of materials.

In order to help the council tenants who do not qualify for grant aid the Council is proposing to allow them to buy the materials through the Housing Department's stores at a very beneficial rate of 34 per cent of cost.

Draughtproofing

Under a new arrangement on draughtproofing NACRO receives £45 for every job undertaken. The average cost of a home is £60 and that would mean the householder contributing £15. Some tenants will not be able to meet this costs and the Council are looking into ways of setting up a hardship fund, possibly with help through the Edward Harvist Charity.

'MANSION BLOCK' GRANTS

HELP is available, in the form of improvement grants, to carry out major work on the common areas of blocks of 'Mansion' style flats.

This is money which can be used for building repairs to roofs and staircases, work on foundations, external walls and landings. Special work to make dwellings suitable for the needs of a disabled person, can also be carried out.

The grant money is designed to bring older 'mansion style' blocks of flats up to a good standard of repair. In the past householders in individual flats could claim home improvement grants, but the landlord or management committee could not get help towards repairs of the main fabric and services of the building.

Survey

The grant can only be claimed by Environmental Health Department, in November 1985, which looked into the condition of housing in the private sector, showed that there were 124 mansion blocks in the borough, of which 14 were in need of repair, external redecoration or maintenance of service installations.

New legislation has made grants available for mansion blocks.

To qualify a property must have been built before 1961. At least 75 per cent of the flats must be occupied by tenants or long leaseholders, and the average rateable value of each dwelling must be £400 or under.

The grant can only be claimed by the person or organisation which has a duty and power to carry out the work.

Looking ahead to Finchley Carnival

Carnival Cats

THIS year Finchley Carnival Cat Show celebrates its 10th anniversary and it is still gaining popularity.

There are 59 classes, including a strong club section, in the 1988 show, which will be held on Thursday, July 14, at Victoria Park, Finchley, the opening day of Finchley Carnival.

There will be a special rosette and trophy for the winner of the Anniversary Classes, and a special award for the best rescued pet cat.

There are classes for magnificent felines and novelty classes for family pets — such as a class for a cat who lives with a rabbit, and one for the cat with the largest eyes. Owners beware! There's a class for the cat the judge would most like to take home. (But she won't — honest!).

Police clinic

WEST Hendon Police are holding a twice-weekly clinic for residents of Grahame Park, Colindale.

Home beat officers PC Paul Taylor and WPC Diane Chew can be visited at the Community Centre, The Concourse, Grahame Park on Tuesdays between 6.30pm and 8.30pm and Thursdays between 10am and 12noon.

Art critic for Barnet

THE Borough of Barnet is to have an art critic/writer in residence. This new project, which will run for one academic year, is a joint venture by the Council's Arts Office and Greater London Arts.

Arts Officer, JoAnne Hawley, said: 'The concept of a critic in residence has arisen from the requirements of the new GCSE Art and Design Syllabus which requires all candidates to show critical and historical awareness in their portfolios at the end of the course.'

'The aim is to make students visually aware not simply in a practical sense but to become critically literate and articulate.'

Initially the critic will be working from Ashmole School, Cecil Road, Soutgate, for two days a week for two terms. During the final term the resident will work with staff and pupils in other schools. A programme of ten evening sessions for teachers will run concurrently throughout the year.

A written report, with a view to subsequent publication, will be required at the end of the placement.

GOLF: Top of the Sport Pops poll

A RECENT survey among women in the Borough revealed that golf has scored a hole in one. It tops the list of favourite sports. The summer months are the ideal time to tee off at one of Barnet's three public golf courses, or practice on one of seven putting greens.

Golf is a sport for the whole family or a single individual — one person can compete against the course, bunkers included! You don't have to be a club member to enjoy a game.

Residents of all ages and standards can get to grips with eagles and birdies during lessons organised by the Council's Recreation Group.

Courses for all

There are four courses for children starting on July 25: two for beginners and two intermediates. They are divided into two age groups, under 14s and 14-plus. The venues will be Oakhill Park, Parkside Gardens, East Barnet and Bethune Park, Gresham Avenue, Friern Barnet. For further details phone 446 8511 extn 4668.

For the Over-50s there are six courses starting in June — three beginners and three intermediates. A further six courses begin in August.

By popular demand four extra courses have been organised for women two beginners and two intermediate.

General courses for all all residents begin in June. For details of those, the over 50s and women's lessons, phone 446 8511 ext 4665.

Residents who prefer to organise their own rounds of golf can do so by contacting parks staff at each venue. Season tickets, valid for up to a year, provide excellent value for the regular player. For details of those, contact Aneel Rasheed on 446 8511 extn 4494.

Concessions of 50 per cent on weekday charges (excluding Bank Holidays) are available for the following: pensioners, young people, handicapped people and anyone with a UB40 card.

Children's work on display

AN Open Exhibition displaying examples of work done in the borough's primary schools, is being staged at the Primary Science and Technology Support Unit at the Barnet Teachers Centre, 451 High Road, North Finchley, from Monday, June 13 to Friday June 17.

The science and technology on display will be the result of the Education Support Grant Scheme and the Problem Solving Project promoted by the Department of Education and Science. For the latter Barnet was one of seven boroughs selected for this pilot scheme.

The exhibition will also feature some of the latest equipment and techniques used in developing science and technology for very young children.

The highlight of the week will be on Wednesday, June 15 at 4pm, when it is hoped that George Auckland, producer of BBC Television Educational Programmes will talk to teachers about future television plans and demonstrate some of the material to be used. BBC Television is featuring some Barnet schools in their programmes.

Also on display will be 'Control It', a computer package developed by Barnet for all its primary schools.

The week is open to parents and teachers.

National chairman

Congratulations to Anne Dunkley, 27, of Barnet's 18 Plus Group, who has been elected Chairman of the National Federation of 18 Plus Groups. 18 Plus is a social club for people between 18 and 30 and has about 6,000 members in 250 groups.

Celebrating merry month of May

Classroom studies on town and country life in Victorian times, came alive recently for 4th year pupils of Martin Junior School, High Road, East Finchley, when they dressed up in the style of the 1800s and danced around a maypole.

Teachers Avril Lovatt and Linda Burrows have been involving their pupils in all aspects of the Victorian era, including making models of Victorian houses and learning cross stitch to produce samplers.

The school caretakers helped set up the maypole, around which some of the youngsters are pictured.

Barnet's new Mayor takes charge

BARNET's new Mayor is Cllr Don Goodman who lives in East Barnet and is a ward councillor for Brunswick Park. For the past three years he has been chairman of the Grants Committee and through this work he has a very lively interest in and knowledge of voluntary organisations through the borough.

'It is my wish to involve as many people as possible in the Mayoralty and I wish the burgesses of the borough prosperity in the coming 12 months,' he said.

The Mayor-making ceremony took place during the Council's annual meeting, in the Town Hall, Hendon, on May 10.

Integrity

Cllr Leslie Sussman, for whom Cllr Goodman was Deputy Mayor in 1984/85, said 'He has brought to the Council conscientiousness, integrity and knowledge which he has used for the benefit of his colleagues and the borough as a whole.'

And Cllr Vic Usher, 'father' of the Council, and twice Mayor of Barnet, paid tribute to his unfailing courtesy and cheerfulness.

Cllr Goodman, 57, is a sales executive. He and his wife, Mary, have a son, Dean; daughter-in-law, Christine, and grandchildren, Jonathan, seven and Samantha, three.

After leaving school at the age of 14, Cllr Goodman worked in a munitions factory. His National Service was spent in the Royal Army Ordnance Corps, where he became a small arms and drill instructor.

He was a member of the 1949 Small Bore Shooting Championship Team (Southern Command) and his hobbies now include rough and clay pigeon shooting.

The family moved from Palmers Green to East Barnet in 1961 when the councillor entered local politics.

In 1982 he was elected to Barnet Council and has served on various committees including Town Planning and Research and Public Works. He is chairman of Church Farm Youth Centre Management Committee and his interest in schools is reflected in his service on various Governing bodies.

The Deputy Mayor and Mayoress are Cllr Wilfred Lipman and his wife Joyce. His chaplain is the Rev Richard Parsons, Vicar of Hendon.

Mayor grasps a 'lifeline' for his appeal

THE NEW Mayor has chosen Barnet Lifeline for his Mayoral Appeal.

This organisation, linked with Help the Aged, aims to provide a push button and remote controlled telephone alarm system for elderly people so that in an emergency they can call for help.

The installation is a Tunstall Telecom unit which combines an ordinary telephone with a pre-programmed alarm which will alert a central control. The elderly person can wear a pen-dant radio alarm so that they are always in touch.

'When choosing the subject for the appeal I was very torn between two organisations. I felt very personally involved with the Paul O'Gorman Foundation and at the same time I wanted to help Barnet Lifeline,' the Mayor said.

'In the end I selected Lifeline because I felt it was in keeping with the spirit of the Mayor's Appeal in serving the specific local community.

'As a compromise I have decided to make Lifeline my appeal but I am arranging some special events in aid of the Paul O'Gorman Foundation. I believe that in providing the Lifeline service to elderly people in our borough we shall be filling a very urgent and immediate need.'

Dennis Signy has agreed to continue to be chairman of the Mayor's Appeal Committee and his wife, Pat, will be the Honorary Secretary.

Each Lifeline Unit costs £250 which includes one year's monitoring by the Communications Centre. The objective of the Appeal is to provide the units on free loan to the borough's elderly residents whose age and frailty places their independence at risk.

Barnet Blind Bowls Club

BARNET Blind Bowls Club are now in their 14th outdoor season. They play at Bishopswood Tudor, Summers Lane, North Finchley, on Monday afternoons; at S.T.C.'s Denham Road green, New Southgate, on Tuesdays; and at the Old Court House Recreation Ground, Wood Street, Barnet on Fridays, courtesy of the three clubs.

All games start at 2pm and end at 4pm, and members of the host clubs help with the training and in other ways.

At present there are vacancies for three or four new members. To qualify for membership people must be registered blind or partially sighted and live in the Borough of Barnet or close by.

The games are friendly but competitive. There is a full range of club competitions and games against other blind clubs in the area. They also play against 16 sighted clubs during the year.

Transport

Transport difficulties mean that Barnet Blind Bowls Club can only cater for the northern part of the borough. If any sighted bowls club in other parts of Barnet would like to follow the present hosts clubs and offer the use of a rink on one day of the week to help spread this enjoyable recreation for the blind, then Mr Jack Dunwell would be pleased to hear from you on 449 7058 and provide further details.

All that it needed is a thin green string down the centre of a rink and a few friends to form a rota to provide training. There is a fear that blind players may damage the green but much depends upon the way in which they have been trained and their usual standard of delivery is quite high.

KAPLAN'S WORLD

THE world of Anatoli Kaplan comes to Britain for the first time in more than 20 years as an exhibition of his work goes on display this month at the Sternberg Centre, East End Road, Finchley N3.

His lithographs expressing the stories of Sholem Aleichem have become famous and a selection of these will be featured in this exhibition which is presented by the Manor House Society from June 8 until July 17.

Kaplan's work was first shown outside Russia by the Grosvenor Gallery in 1961. He was subsequently asked to produce a further series of prints for that gallery and these lithographs were exhibited there in 1963.

The current exhibition, which is to be officially opened at a private view on June 7 by Professor Chimen Abramsky, will also feature a theme from the Haggadah.

For details of opening times and further information about the exhibition phone 346 2288.

THE first Jazz Festival presented by the Old Bull Arts Centre, High Street, Barnet, will be launched on June 21 with a Music Workshop by the Musicians Union.

On June 22 the Old Bull's President, Humphrey Lyttelton will appear with his band and guests, Zoots and Spangles.

Saturday, June 25 is activity day which includes a lunchtime concert by Roadside Picnic and evening appearances by the Steve Williamson Quintet and Rootabooga.

The Festival continues on Sunday, June 26 with a lunchtime concert by Some Like It Hot and an evening show with the Stan Tracey Quartet.

Drama centre's new manager — new workshops

BARNET Drama Centre has a new manager and a new series of workshops for the unemployed is under-way.

Julius Green, 24, took up his post in April having previously worked as deputy manager at the Manorhill Community Centre.

A graduate of Cambridge University, he spent a year as assistant manager of the city's ADC Theatre and has also worked as administrator of The Medieval Players Touring Theatre Company, the National Youth Music Theatre and the Actors Touring Company.

He has performed with the Clap Trap Theatre in Education and has worked as a director on several productions including an epic eight and a half hour adaptation of Dickens's Nicholas Nickleby.

'Drama is as important as sport as a social and recreational activity,' he said. 'The aim of drama workshops is that people should enjoy communicating with one another in a relaxing group environment; you certainly don't have to be a star to enjoy joining in.'

One of the first innovative series of workshops is for the unemployed. Led by professional actors, the workshops involve movement, voice, improvisation and communications skills in a relaxed and informal environment.

The sessions are every Monday from 10am until noon. Admission is £1 at the door. Those who attend regularly will be given an introduction to script work and performance technique. There is also the opportunity to participate in presentations at the centre.

Future plans include workshops for the disabled, for the over 50s, for mothers and toddlers and music workshops for children. Anyone interested in contributing or participating should contact the Centre at 142 High Road, East Finchley, N2. Tel: 883 9957.

A present from. . .

THERE was a time when every trip to the seaside meant buying a souvenir, clearly marked 'A Present From. . . and it was a vital part of the day.

One woman's collection of this type of souvenir will be on show at the Church Farm House Museum, Greyhound Hill, Hendon, from June 18 until September 18.

Daphne Leach said: 'The collection was started some four years ago, following my retirement, when I joined a class on the Decorative Arts 1830 to 1951. One of Felicity Meshoulam's lectures, entitled The Railway Age, outlined how trains brought about the transition of certain towns from health resorts to holiday resorts.'

'Browsing around Rye market a few weeks later I found, and bought, a floral "ribbon" plate — a Present from Rhyl. Months later I bought another — The Pier, Colwyn Bay — and decided to collect seaside china.'

About 120 items from the collection will be displayed and all reflect the seaside in the heyday of British piers and railways.

Mrs Leach said the souvenir industry was quick to respond to seaside mania. 'English factories like Spode and Goss, went into the mass production of cheap pictorial souvenirs, made possible by photographic transfer process.'

'However the Germans improved the colouring technique and factories like Schumann virtually cornered the market in this field by undercutting English manufacturers.'

'Many plates and dishes have a variety of pierced patterns around the border. Ribbon plates with "slots" around the edges were designed to enable ribbon to be threaded through and the plates hung on walls.'

Most of the souvenir china was made between 1880 and 1914. Then postcards had become popular and the First World War started. The trade picked up a little between the wars but the boom was over.

Government observed

The British Constitution in pictures and documents is the subject of an exhibition at the museum from June 11 until July 24.

This exhibition illustrates the development of the British political system including the growth of Parliament, the growth of political parties, the suffragette movement and the influence of European Parliament.

The museum is open Mondays to Saturdays (except Tuesday) from 10am until 1pm and 2pm until 5.30pm. On Tuesdays from 10am until 1pm and on Sundays from 2pm until 5.30pm.

Barnet acts on JOB SEARCH '88

BARNET'S careers officers don't just give advice. They go out and find jobs. Twenty-six members of Barnet Careers Service took part in National Job Search Week '88 in April.

This year, because of the improvement in the employment situation, the careers officers concentrated this year's exercise on target firms and employers.

In previous years the whole range of employment was encompassed. This year the team were looking for the type of job which young people want, but which are not always easy for a school leaver to find.

Letters and publicity were sent to 300 organisations, mainly in the construction, engineering and other technical and practical fields, plus jobs in high demand such as travel and tourism, estate agency, working with animals and jobs in the artistic and creative field.

The careers officers followed up with visits to 105 targeted firms and other employers new to the borough.

A feature this year was to encourage employers to adopt a more positive approach to the employment of young people with special needs.

As well as canvassing for vacancies, Job Search '88 was used as a public relations exercise to inform and advise employers on a wide range of educational and occupational issues. These included government training schemes, academic and scholastic qualifications.

Particular emphasis was laid on new educational initiatives such as TVEI, BTEC and CPVE — all closely linked to vocational studies — and the new General Certificate of Secondary Education, which has replaced GCE and CSE. Employers were asked to co-operate and find work experience opportunities for students on such courses and 13 employers agreed to do so.

Altogether a total of 82 targeted vacancies were notified as a result of Job Search. Careers officers have already begun the process of placing this year's summer leavers in these vacancies.

Young people who would like careers guidance, or employers who would like to offer opportunities in work experience schemes should contact their local careers office.

Barnet's fun run kids

More than 700 Barnet school children took part in the Copthall fun run which provided an active end to Choices in Health Week in May — a week in which the focus was on health education.

Primary and secondary schools up to fourth year pupils were invited to run. Juniors completed 1¾ miles and seniors, 2 miles, many being joined by their teachers.

There were no winners, but every runner received a medalion. The runners, many in fancy dress, were taking part just for fun — and to underline the need for healthy exercise.

The run was organised by Barnet Schools Athletic Association supported by the Look After Your Heart Campaign.

During the week healthy eating, and anti-smoking campaigns were organised and Break Out Theatre Company ran a production on attitudes of young people to AIDS.

The photograph shows runners checking in for their medallions.

Preparing for new era

UNDER the new Education Reform Bill local schools will have far greater delegated powers in running their own financial and managerial responsibilities. Much of the decision making will pass from the local education authority to the school boards of governors.

Barnet is preparing to meet this change by setting up a pilot scheme in a group of schools across the borough, so that the impact of the new Bill, when it comes into force in the early 1990s, can be fully appreciated and planned for.

The schools invited to take part in the pilot scheme, beginning at the start of the financial year in April 1989, are Finchley Catholic High (voluntary aided secondary school), Copthall (girls' secondary), Ravenscroft (mixed sex secondary); Goldbeaters, Dollis Infants and Junior, and Church Hill primary schools; and Oakleigh Special school.

Additionally a computer software programme to develop financial management information is planned with four secondary schools — East Barnet, Bishop Douglass, St. James' and Mill Hill County.

The information feeding back from these 12 schools will provide useful background for the local education authority when setting up the final administrative network, and also be a practical learning experience for the schools involved.

In preparing to hand over the reins of financial management to schools Barnet has taken several early steps. Officers from both the Education and the Financial directorates have met regularly to study the legislation. The report containing the proposals has been widely circulated to schools. A conference for councillors, governors, head teachers, and the teaching and non-teaching unions, was held in April, and a deputy head teacher, Mr R. McDonagh, has been seconded to the education directorate as liaison officer for LMS (Local Management of Schools).

Barnet will have to submit its scheme for the delegation of powers to schools, to the Secretary of State for Education and Science by September 1989 and be ready to introduce the scheme by April 1993 at the latest.

The Government expects that by delegating powers to schools they will enable governing bodies and head teachers to plan the use of their finances to maximum effect in accordance with their own needs and priorities, and make the schools more responsible to the parents, pupils, the local community and employers.

A similar exercise is being undertaken in respect of the Further Education Colleges under separate legislative proposals.

Sport for the family

OPENED in 1983 as a result of a joint exercise by the Sports Council and the governors of Mill Hill School, the sports hall at the school in The Ridgeway NW7 is the hub of many sporting activities enjoyed by both the general public and boys at the school.

Available to the public in the evenings and weekends, and at selected times during the day, the first-class facilities at the school are a great local asset.

As well as the main hall which is available for badminton (four courts), tennis, basketball, five-a-side soccer, indoor hockey and volleyball, there are facilities for cricket (two indoor nets), swimming in a 25-metre pool, squash (three courts), karate and judo areas, and six outdoor tennis courts.

Recently a new 18-station Power Sport Gymnasium was opened. Here, under expert guidance, the centre can cater for a whole range of requirements on up-to-date equipment. As part of this development an entirely separate loose weights gym has been opened for those who really want to concentrate on body development.

The Buckland Society is the organisation within the centre and comprises local residents who organise social activities including quiz evenings, dinner dances, soccer tournaments, coach trips, ski holidays and other fun occasions. Society membership entitles people to earlier bookings at reduced rates. Much of the social life is based on the friendly and intimate bar there which, though busy, does not intrude on the more athletic side of the activities.

Details of the centre can be obtained by telephoning 906 2322 or by paying a visit to the centre. The entrance is directly opposite St Paul's Church in The Ridgeway, and the manager is David Franklin.
