Barnet acts to stop Acid House parties

Barnet is asking the London Boroughs Association to press for amendments to legislation in an attempt to stop Acid House parties.

The General Purposes Committee, at its June meeting, agreed to approach the LBA. The move follows a party in the Elstree end of the borough on June 10 and 11, at which Environmental Health staff monitored noise levels, took still photographs and video.

Chief Environmental Health Officer, Geoff Fish, then circulated all London Boroughs and 23 other authorities bordering London. He told them: 'Such events are likely to be extremely popular during the summer months, especially in areas close to the M25, and, if you become aware of one in your area, you might care to make use of our experience and evidence in supporting an early application for an injunction to stop the event.'

Mr Fish set out details of efforts by his staff to reduce noise levels. 'Notices were served under the Control of Pollution Act on those organisers we could find, and the occupier of the land, as the Council were satisfied that a noise nuisance was likely to occur. Adjoining boroughs were informed and the department immediately set up noise monitoring equipment in a nearby house to measure ambient noise levels during Friday night, so that these could be used as a comparison to levels recorded during the event.'

An attempt by the Borough of Harrow to get an injunction on the Saturday morning, was unsuccessful because no evidence of nuisance from similar events could be supplied. Barnet was successful in obtaining an injunction early on the Sunday evening.

Committee chairman, Cllr Jack Clarfelt, said: 'The evidence collected by our Environmental Health Officers will be of inestimable value should such an event reoccur either in this borough or elsewhere.'

Under new management

BARNET Council is bringing a new look to its internal passenger transport service with more emphasis on service and cost effectiveness.

The Council provides a daily passenger transport service on a scale equal to the operation of a provincial bus company or a sizeable coach tour operator.

Every weekday more than 1,250 people are transported by 150 passenger vehicles. Most of these are hired but some, mainly ambulances, are provided by the Transport Section of Technical Services Directorate.

Many of these passengers are members of day centres or residential homes run by Social Services Department. They need care, attention and assistance. Eighty are in wheelchairs. Education lay on transport for children getting to school, particularly where they need to attend special schools, and there are regular visits to centres such as Copthall for swimming and sports. It adds up to a vast operation which costs about £4 million in total each year.

In any such operation there will be conflicts of interest. A balance has to be maintained between service and cost effectiveness and accountability. To examine the way the service operates and provide a basis for the Borough to draw up an action plan the Council appointed the Centre for Transport Studies as their consultants. Their report was critical of the management structure and many of their comments have been taken aboard in drawing up a new plan designed to meet the needs of the passengers and at the same time provide a more cost effective service.

The main recommendations are:

An integrated passenger transport service for both Education and Social Services managed by the Technical Services Directorate with an increased emphasis on meeting user demands, achieving maximum use of vehicles and staffing resources, improving routing, information, and response, and achieving high standards of cost control and management.

Detailed specifications of the service needs will be drawn up to form the main base for the new management

Give the trees a drink

Barnet planted 7,000 street trees during the 1988/89 winter. These young trees are suffering because of the very dry June weather.

So we are calling on residents to help. Please give your street trees a drink. During any dry period just throw a bowl of washing up water or bath water (as long as it does not contain too much detergent) over the roots of your nearest trees. Trees need a gallon of water a day.

Congratulations

Congratulations to Barnet Primary Schools Football Club who won the Thames Valley Trophy. The 16 boys, who come from 12 primary schools in the borough, beat Hamersmith 2-1 in the final round of this Under-11s tournament.

ANDREW GETS A WINNER'S WELCOME

Graham Beattie, controller of Engineering, and Superintendent Roger Croom of the Police Driving School, Hendon, congratulate Andrew Fulton on winning the Barnet Road Safety Competition. The real winner was his father-in-law Mr. Philip Warr who nominated Andrew to accept the free motor cycle training course and reflecting Sam Browne belts

Mr Tony Quinn opens his bathroom centre in September after buying out his partner in Q & B Bathrooms.

The new showroom will display 40 bathroom suites. One range of Italian pottery will be unique in Mr Quinn's centre, who will not only be supplying bathrooms and bathroom accessories, but will also be offering to undertake any necessary building work involved in fitting the bathroom. Adrian Harris, an interior designer, whose work, Mr Quinn claims, is "brilliant" will create a new look for your bathroom.

Mr Quinn, who began in the bathroom business at the age of 15 and got his first managerial post in Norlands at 17, has now, at 33, got big plans for developing a kitchen and bedroom centre next door and a trade centre at the back of the bathroom showroom. He hopes these will be completed by 1990.

"The main thing about my business will be the personal service. The customer can be sure who they are dealing with," he said. Although construction is in process, trading continues as it has done since Mr Quinn began on his own in March. Call him today and arrange to meet at the shop, he will give you all the help your need, no matter how small the problem.

Prime Minister opens a Centre of Service

ONE OF the most imaginative developments that Barnet Council has created was opened by the Prime Minister, Mrs Margaret Thatcher. It is the Rosa Freedman Centre in Cricklewood, providing housing and day care in the south west of the borough and serving up to 100 people a day.

As she unveiled the commemorative plaque Mrs Thatcher described the project as a lovely house and a real home for many people. 'I have never seen a centre such as this before, serving such a wide range of the community,' she said.

The Rosa Freedman Centre, named after the late Rosa Freedman, former Mayor of Barnet, is a joint project for Barnet's Departments of Social Services and Housing which will provide residential care, sheltered housing, and day care for elderly residents in the Golders Green and Cricklewood areas. It also offers a meeting place for groups such as carers.

Mrs Thatcher was greeted by the Mayor of Barnet and her Escort, Cllr Dot Benson and Mr Ron Benson, and Mr Joe Freedman, husband of Rosa and himself a former Mayor of Barnet.

Also present were Cllr Mrs Mamie Perry, Social Services Committee chairman; Cllr Norman Hirshfield, Housing Committee chairman; Barnet's chief executive, Mr Max Caller; Mr Alan Gorst, director of Social Services; Mr Ray Janering, director of Housing and Environmental Services; and centre manager Mr Mark Beauchamp.

Congratulations

She congratulated Barnet Council on its choice of site, the way that the buildings had been planned, the soft lighting and the furnishings, and she praised those who had planned and carried out the scheme.

In 1955 the former Hendon Council sold a one acre site to the London Diocesan Fund to build a church. There was a condition with the sale that the Council should have first refusal on the land if it should cease to be needed for religious use. The Little Church of St Peter was for many years a focus for worship but changing times led to its closure in 1984.

Barnet, as the successor to Hendon Council, negotiated the repurchase of the land for a joint Social Services and Housing Development.

The £3 million scheme includes 25 sheltered housing flats for elderly people who are still able to live an independent life providing back up services are on hand. This includes 10 single flats and 15 flats for two people.

There is also a residential home for 20 people, which is partly a new building and partly a conversion of the existing vestry.

These both link into and share the communal facilities which have been provided by converting the existing church into a 40-place day centre used by both residents and the local community. Facilities include a kitchen, dining room, recreation area and group rooms. There is also a laundry, medical centre and therapy room. A mezzanine floor has been created within the original church.

Claremont Way has been closed to through traffic to prevent vehicles using the local roads to gain access to the industrial estate. A realignment of site boundaries has provided 17 car parking spaces and a landscaped communal garden with special facilities for elderly people including raised flower beds and a greenhouse.

The local community will have an important role. Volunteers, families and friends are encouraged to become involved and older people will be invited to social events. Rooms within the centre will be available for hire by local groups and individuals.

The scheme was designed by the Architecture Group of Barnet's Directorate of Technical Services. The contractors are Durkan Brothers.

Mrs Thatcher shows former Mayor Joe Freedman, the commemorative plaque in memory of his wife. In a tribute she said: Rosa served the community to the best of her ability - and her ability was vast.

Our new homes at no capital cost

AN AGREEMENT between Barnet Council and private developers has resulted in 28 new council homes for rent, at no capital cost to the Council. The homes at The Hyde, West Hendon, form an L-shaped group of traditional brick houses and a three storey block of flats, set behind landscaped lawns.

The development was opened by the Deputy Mayor and Mayoress, Cllr Leslie and Joyce Foster, at the invitation of Rialto Group chairman, Mr James Barham. Mr. David Turner, Rialto managing director, said his firm specialised in urban renewal and this was a case where old, run down property had made way for new homes.

In 1987 Barnet Council agreed to pass over to the Rialto Group an acre of land next to their Welsh Harp Village development. In return Rialto designed and built the new council housing on nearby council land at no cost to the Council.

The 16 two-bedroom houses will be let to families. The 12 studio flats will allow the Council to help younger single people on the housing waiting list who have real housing need.

Reproduction furniture

After managing a showroom in Kensington, Keith and Irene Horridge opened their first shop with their three sons, Jonathan, Giles and Rupert. Business bloomed, so in March last year they decided to expand the business by opening up another showroom in Radlett.

Both showrooms have an extensive range of quality furniture to suit all tastes, but Sheraton specialise mainly in high quality reproduction furniture. Some of their most popular ranges include Parker and Farr Ash dining furniture which comes with a range of pastel shades to match almost any decor. Their solid oak hand-polished furniture has also proved popular.

You can find Sheraton House Furniture at Lower Road, Chorleywood, and 297 Watling Street, Radlett. If you are looking to make your home look beautiful, Sheraton will be well worth a visit.

Copthall Show

Glorious weather and the accent on fun made this year's Copthall show a real success.

The horse show included qualifying rounds for a national competition. The motor cycle meet included quad racing and sidecar events and competitors camped round the arena

There were children's games and serious sports to watch and enjoy.

The funfair did brisk business and so did the cold drinks stalls. The swimming championships, held on the Saturday, were well supported.

100 YEARS OF BOOKS IN BARNET

CENTENARY celebrations at Chipping Barnet Library, begin on July 17, and include exhibitions of Barnet past and present.

The Library began with a bequest of £10,000 in 1888 from Mrs Julia Hyde of Hadley. The money was to be used to establish a Literary Institute and Reading Rooms for the use of the residents.

In 1889 the Hyde Institute opened its doors to the reading public at 61, High Street, Barnet. There were 376 tickets issued to readers and his stock of books numbered 4,093.

In 1904 the Institute moved to its present site thanks to the generosity of two Miss Pagets of Hadley, who leased a building to the trustees for 99 years at an annual rent of £75.

The celebrations run from July 17 to 22. Staff will be in Victorian dress on July 19 and July 22.

An exhibition of the Hyde Institute and Barnet of 100 years ago will run side by side with displays of present-day Barnet from local societies and playgroups.

A Birthday Storytime will be held in the Junior Library on Tuesday, July 18 from 2.45 to 3.15pm. Any youngster with a birthday that day, will find a special welcome.

On Thursday, July 20, there is a centenary party from 4 to 5.15pm with Victorian games and crafts.

= Keep Your Kitchen in Style =

Hampstead Kitchens have been trading in the Market Place in Hampstead Garden Suburb for over a year. In that time they have proved that genuine, personal and professional service is the keynote to successful retailing.

Sharon and Roger Chippeck, the proprietors of Hampstead Kitchens, are a husband and wife team, who believe in giving their customers first class service, from the time the client first enters the shop to the time the last cupboard is fitted in the home.

At the showroom at 3 The Market Place, there is a wonderful selection of fitted kitchens from Germany and beautiful handpainted kitchens from England. The German kitchens are manufactured by allmilmo, a company established for over 25 years in Germany, and over 15 years in the UK. Their range features the exclusive 3D design, which is shown to full advantage in all the displays at their showroom, but especially in the highgloss Bordeaux Royale, which holds pride of place in HK's front windows.

Sharon and Roger believe that the beauty of the allmilmo kitchens is that by using the exclusive 3D design a straight run of kitchen units can be brought to life with well planned and thought out designs that need not cost the earth.

The 3D design is available throughout allmilmo's extensive range of door fronts.

They also provide a free planning service and are only too happy to provide perspectives as well as flat plans, so that the clients can see exactly how their new kitchen will look. On the English handpainted range, Hampstead Kitchens have their own artists so that once kitchen is installed, the units are painted exclusively to the client's taste and colour. For instance, if a special fabric is being featured, a particular colour may be picked out to use on the units giving a lovely co-ordinated look.

HAVE A HANDPAINTED KITCHEN THAT CAN BE INDIVIDUALLY YOURS

We deliver our furniture coated with a white eggshell primer finish. After installation the specialist painting begins, you choose only the colours and the pattern. A traditional pigmented glaze is mixed which creates the final finish. You can select any of the delicate broken paint finishes that were so typical of 18th century interiors.

Dragging: This gives a subtle pattern of fine irregular lines.

Sponging: Is a mottled effect.

Stippling: Is a pattern of fine dots.

Rag Rolling: Gives the appearance of crushed fabric.

Marbling & Graining: Imitates the effects of marble and timber.

Hand applied mouldings and shaped panels can be highlighted by delicate colour stress lines which will co-ordinate with other aspects of your room such as curtains, tiles or furnishings. The result is stunning and the possibilities limitless.

and internationalist principles

We are a youth organisation which encourages the development for equal opportunities for both boys and girls.

We teach the ideals of democracy, cooperation and tolerance at our group nights and at camp where all share in the responsibilities and benefits of cooperative experiences.

We have groups throughout the borough of Barnet for all age groups 6-9, 10-12, 13-15, 16-20.

We welcome adults, particularly parents to help with the running of our groups.

Introducing

Foot in the Door

The original customers at Early Clothing clamoured for a range of shoes that would match the vibrant style of the children's clothes - thus Foot in The Door was born.

The shop only stocks shoes that are sensible for growing feet - much attention is paid, and sound advice given, to mums fitting even the tiniest of feet. However, sensible shoes don't have to be boring.

The ranges featuring START-RITE and RICOSTA and BABYBOTTE all offer an incredible mixture of styles. Starting with tiny cord slippers for babies, through slip-on, buckle-on, velcro-on, lace-up shoes in soft hardwearing Nubuck in bright primary colours from POMME D'API

Early Clothing

Outstanding fashion for children from 0-14 - features the very best designs from Europe including OILILY, TROINETTE French designer print dresses.

Older boys will love the sweatshirts featuring fashionable badges and embroidery taking 'Ace, King of the Sky' as a popular theme.

BABAR print romper suits are the cutest around. Fluorescent scrunchy swimsuits and bikinis - styles just like mums.

A toy box and TV/video to keep youngsters entertained. Indeed all staff (a blissful minimum of 5) are mums or trained nannies.

The choice is endless.

But if you can't get along to the bus, why not pop in to your local library. There's lots of information about summer activities, and of course there are books galore! And many libraries have special programmes during school holidays.

ESTHER RANTZEN - Arriving by helicopter on Saturday

CAPITAL RADIO SUNDAY

AIR BALLOONS GALORE & RIDES

KODAK'S RENT A CAMERA

ROLL UP! ROLL UP! A weekend of FUN, FUN, FUN is waiting for the whole family with displays, rides, entertainment and competitions - and it's all in aid of The Prince's Trust charity.

The Metropolitan Police Band, Barnet's Music Centre, Fulham Fire Stars Jazz Marching Band and the John Laing Hendon Band all strike the right musical background to the events at the 35-acre police sports club.

There are loads of exhibitions including horse-drawn chariots, carriages and hansom cabs. A full size replica of Stephenson's Rocket will line up side by side with a mock-up of the latest high speed train. The Metropolitan Police Parachute Display team will drop in and there will be a Battle of Britain Memorial flight, involving a Spitfire and Hurricane, in addition to a Concorde 'fly past'.

Medieval jousting, a stunt car driver and a motor cycle display are just some of the spectacular arena events.

On Sunday, July 1 the Soaps Cup Final kicks off at 3pm when the Walford Boys Club from Eastenders play the Coronation Street All Stars. The teams will include stars from two other 'soaps', Brookside and Emmerdale Farm.

In addition to a fun fair there will be inflatables, donkey rides or, for the more adventurous, trips in a helicopter. Competitions include five-a-side football and, on the Sunday, a tug-of-war.

An exciting exhibition by the Mary Rose Trust will include relics from the ship.

A must for philatelists will be a first day commemorative cover. The first 200 will be signed by the Metropolitan Police Commissioner, Sir Peter Imbert and Owen Kelly, Commissioner of the City of London Police. This major coup has been made possible by the Philatelic Bureau of the Postal and Courier Depot, Royal Engineers, Mill Hill. All proceeds are for charity.

Pearly Kings and Queens will join stars of stage, screen and sport. Don't worry about getting hungry...there is loads grub!

There is plenty of free parking including a free park and ride from the grounds of a nearby school.

PRIMARY TEACHERS

After mums and dads, probably the most influential

In Enfield, we recognise the central role that a teacher plays in a child's development. We take the professional development of our teachers seriously and have devised a network of support services and extensive training programme which begins in the probationary year and continues throughout a teacher's career, so that there are many opportunities for promotion.

Enfield is looking for talented and enthusiastic teachers who are committed to provide a relevant, forward-thinking and high quality education service for pupils. All staff are encouraged to share in the planning for the challenges of the 1990's and we offer School the maximum number of incentive allowances in recognition of our teachers' commitment.

There are other advantages to working with us.

Enfield is a pleasant Borough in which to live. Rich cultural diversity, together with a broad mix of housing and industry. You'll find the best mix of city and suburban living. Access to central London is easy but we are only a few minutes from the Hertfordshire countryside.

Working in Enfield is a PARTNERSHIP

There are vacancies now or from September 1989 in our infant, junior and JMI Schools'. We can offer full or part-time jobs, with permanent, temporary or supply contracts - we can be flexible to meet your needs.

If you are interested in joining us, please contact Janet Shelton by telephoning 01 - 982 7204.

Application forms are obtainable by telephoning or writing to: Education Personnel Unit, P.O. Box 56, Civic Centre, Silver Street, Enfield EN1 3XQ.

London Allowance £903

The Authority awards a £500 (taxable) allowance to each probationary teacher when taking up an offer of employment (subject to certain conditions).

There's a bigger round of locals on a Big Red Barnet Bus.

NIP ROUND to the bus stop. Make it a double decker and say cheers to a bigger round of locals.

Sample different atmospheres; entertainment, family, real ale and garden pubs.

If you've raised your right arm just once too often, don't worry. Red Buses run well after the bell.

The Black Bull

1446 High Road, Whetstone, N20

BUSES: 26, 34, 82, 134, 263

Caroline and Eric, the landlady and landlord, run the ideal pub for families: in the traditional, homely atmosphere of their pub they serve lunchtime fayre, and in the elegant conservatory, lunches and evening meals are also served, but, they say, 'remember all adults must be accompanied by children!' You're invited for Sunday lunch and if you fancy an oriental dish, they do it. There's a pool room, patio and a garden, and live music on Tuesdays. Taylor Walker Best Bitter and Ind Coope Burton Ale.

York Arms

310 Oakleigh Road North, Whetstone, N20

BUSES: 34, 251

Your perfect local where you can swing a pint of Websters Yorkshire and Trumans Best to the sound of music during Saturday night singing sessions around the old Joanna. Meals served at lunchtimes, snacks in the evenings. Outdoor drinking. The Good Beer Guide commends it this year.

Cavalier

67 Russell Lane, Whetstone, N20

BUS: 34 and short walk

Quiet, comfortable local; you've plenty of room to mix and mingle in its cosy, woody bars. As far as tradition goes, time has stood still here but the pub clock, a little Big Ben, ticks on in great splendour. Lunchtime comes round six times a week. Pretty garden with paving and lights. Traditional ales: John Smith, Courage Best Bitter and Directors. Good Beer Guide.

Ye Olde Monken Holt

193 High Street, Barnet

BUSES: 26, 34, 82, 84, 84A, 107, 134, 263

Listed as a Courage Food Pub and also listed by the Good Beer Guide for maintaining standards over the years. Courage Best and Directors are on handpump and can be enjoyed with some excellent fayre on the patio or in its cosy wood-panelled bar. Lunchtime meals from an extensive menu and evening snacks served every day of the week. Open 11 am - 11 pm. Sundays as licensed.

Alexandra

135 Wood Street, Barnet

BUSES: 84A, 107, 263

If you'd like a recommendation, just bus round here and see what the judges witnessed when they awarded the Alexandra several prizes for its pretty garden and pubmanship. Good Beer Guide listed again this year for its Ruddles Best Bitter, County and Truman Best Bitter on handpump - it's been in the Guide for 8 years running. You won't find a better welcome anywhere in Barnet.

Hadley Hotel

113 Hadley Road, New Barnet

BUSES: 26, 82

Take the red bus to Potter's Road then walk north up Hadley Road for a green walk around Monken Hadley Common and woods; you'll have passed the Hadley Hotel which you can return to for a refreshing usual is unusually good. It's obviously popular, so if you like drinking cheek to cheek, the range of real ales is intoxicating: Abbot Ale, Ak Mild, Country Bitter, Boddingtons Bitter and Marstons Pedigree. A large selection of good pub grub to soak up the beer and a barbecue built in to the pretty garden. Children welcome.

Royal Oak

1117 Finchley Road, Temple Fortune

BUSES: 13, 26, 82, 102, 260

This newly refurbished Taylor Walker pub goes back a long way - you can tell from the original photograph as you enter the comfortable saloon bar. There are pool tables and a new games room and public bar and saloon. It's a traditional, welcoming 'House' in every sense of the word with bric-a-brac and books to make it homely. And the real ale rounds off that genuine ambience: Best Bitter, Ind Coope Burton Ale. Home-cooking till 9 pm served with a smile.

pint of Good Beer Guide commended Ruddles Best Bitter, County or Websters Yorkshire Bitter. The lounge bar is large and airy, but if you'd like to continue to take the air, you may drink outside in the Beer Garden.

Old White Lion

121 Great North Road, East Finchley, N2

BUSES: 17, 102, 143, 263, 263A, 271

The Old White Lion is an attractive mock-Tudor house but there's nothing artificial about the Good Beer Guide listed Draught Bass and Charrington IPA on handpump. The bustling, cheery atmosphere is genuine too, and carries through from the huge public bar into the equally well proportioned Lounge where there are several, separate drinking areas, then it spills out into the walled garden. Lunchtime and evening meals are ordered from a big menu in this hearty pub.

Wrestlers

98 North Road, Highgate, N6

BUSES: 143, 210, 271

Put a right arm lock on a pint of Charrington IPA or Bass in one of Charrington's Vintage Inns. The locals have been propping up the bar here since the early 1700's and it's one of the oldest and largest pubs in Highgate. The fireplace is 300 years old and the beamy rooms add to the old-world atmosphere which is revitalised twice a year with a 100-year old ceremony called Swearing on the Horns (you might well, since you've just missed May's ceremony). This is run by the Round Table for the handicapped. A good pub for a quick chat when they're not swearing, and some decent home-cooked meals like steak and kidney, lamb, chicken, trout, steaks and burgers.

Kaz joins the WRVS

Nina Prabhu, WRVS Meals on Wheels borough organiser, and Kaz call on Mrs Winifred Foster who used to be a voluntary helper at the Willow Shop, Friern Hospital. She now lives at Homefield Gardens, a sheltered housing scheme run by Finchley Charities

A Japanese student has spent five weeks with Barnet's Meals on Wheels Service to learn more about care of elderly people.

Kaz - full name Yamanoi Kazunori meaning peace and harmony - won a £10,000 scholarship from Mr Koumosuke Matsushita, founder of the Panasonic Company, as a result of a report he wrote on the changing need for social services in Japan. He has already visited Scotland and on May 14 he went on to Sweden, followed by Denmark, USA, Malaysia and Bangladesh.

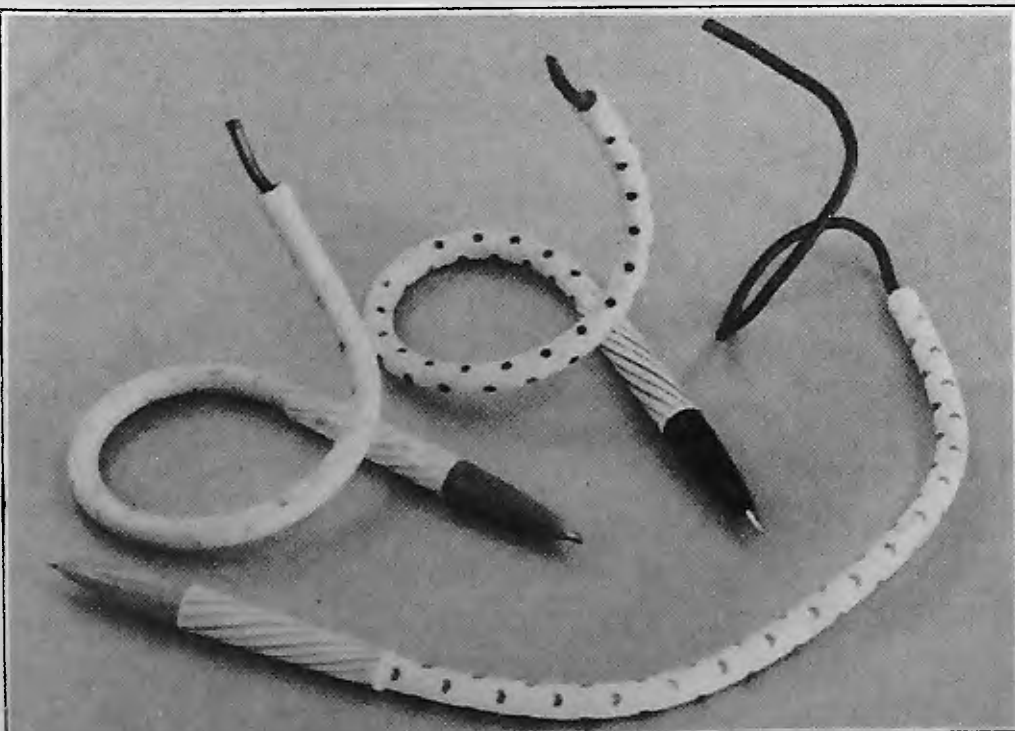

'In Japan,' he explained, 'The old pattern of elderly people being cared for by their children is changing. I have found the service offered in Barnet very interesting. The WRVS and the Council work together to provide the Meals on Wheels and I think this involvement of voluntary groups is practical and sympathetic' he said. 'I find there is a very caring attitude and I like the idea of retired people helping those who are less mobile than themselves.'

PENS POSE A KNOTTY PROBLEM

Do you recognise these pens? If you have one check to make sure it is not broken - and please keep it away from children. They are called 'Knot-a-Pen' and Barnet Trading Standards have been alerted to the fact that there is a lead core running the length of the pen. Lead is highly toxic if children start sucking or chewing it. By the way the lead in ordinary pencils is really graphite and is quite safe. For advice contact Trading Standards on 202 8282 Exts 2050 and 2064.

Barnet College transforms lives

MEET some of the 8,000 adult students who come to a course at Barnet College each week and have found the experience changed their lives. Mrs Judith Morris is to be found five half-days a week giving secretarial support to the Short Course Unit at Barnet College. She hadn't intended to do secretarial work when she enrolled for 'Typing in One Term' in September but was looking for an interest after years of being Mum at home with the children. She had never typed before but found that she really loved it. Judith wears a caliper and needed a foot rest in order to type comfortably. The tutor tried to find one without success. Eventually, Eric Timbrell, college caretaker, came to the rescue and made one to measure. Judith sat RSA Stage One Typing in February and passed with Distinction. Val Grime and Amy Dunbar with five young children between them were looking for a business they could run from home. They joined the Professional Cook's Certificate class and found it gave them confidence in their own abilities as well as a high standard of professional training. They launched their catering business straight from College, specialising in buffet lunches for large firms. They run a successful business and can be home when the children finish school. Mrs Rasheed did GCSE Italian in a year at the age of 75 and passed with a Grade A. Her motivation? Her daughter married an Italian and lives in Florence. Mrs Rasheed found she couldn't talk to her grandchildren.

She's still doing Italian conversation and writing stories in Italian to send to Anna and Louisa. Her son-in-law is binds them into a book called 'Storia della Nona', Granny's stories.

Dina Constantinou says the Health and Beauty course opened many doors for her. As a start she got a Saturday job at 'Body Action' in Barnet High Street where Sally Herod is extending Dina's skills.

Josephine Clode-Jones is a member of the Creative Writing Class run by Luigi Bonomi on Wednesday evenings. She has just had one of her stories published in 'Cambriensis' the short story quarterly magazine of Wales. She works as a medical technician in the National Health Service in London and her ambition is to publish a book of short stories and write a novel.

Caroline Mitchell, 19, wanted to be either an engineer or an architect. She studied Maths, Further Maths, Physics and Art at school but her results in August 1988 were disappointing. She joined part-time classes at Barnet College and is confident that this year's results will be better. She has offers to read architecture at Leeds Poly and Manchester University.

Rosemary Anthony, art student, took her paints to Sweden on holiday and sold her first picture to a 'native' up near the Arctic Circle while the paint was still wet.

You should now have your copy of the new brochure. Have a look inside, you may find a class that will change your life too.

A TOTALLY NEW KIND OF FIGURE SALON . . .

. . . WHERE GREAT RESULTS ARE NO SWEAT.

Imagine losing inches and pounds without strenuous exercise, muscle strain or weird papaya juice diets.

Incredibly, that's the whole idea behind Slender You® Figure Salons. It's a fitness program that'll totally reshape the way you feel about exercise.

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS.

At Slender You®, six different motorized tables do the hard work for you. Each machine is designed to exercise a specific part of your body — stomach, hips, legs and upper arms.

Rather than building muscle (which conventional workouts often do), the Slender You® concept helps to tone and firm your muscles, while breaking down unwanted "cellulite". And unlike traditional exercise, a Slender You® shape-up leaves you feeling refreshed and energized, not fatigued and out of breath.

YOUR FIRST SESSION IS ON US.

We're so positive you'll like what

LEARN THE SECRETS OF STAYING SLIM

The experts who brought you the Cambridge Diet have unveiled a unique plan designed especially for slim people! People who've lost weight successfully that is.

New Cambridge Weight Maintenance Programme available from Diet and Toning Centre.

In addition to the well known 405 Calorie Cambridge Diet formula regime, a new Weight Loss Product, the Cambridge Nutrition Bar, has been introduced, supplemented by a paper-back book, the "Cambridge Weight Maintenance Programme".

The Nutrition Bars are a double confectionery bar, each 135 calories containing 50% of all essential vitamins and minerals, and available at around 40 pence each in White Chocolate/Lemon flavour or Plain Chocolate/Orange. They are ideal as nutritional supplements for all age groups, but particularly in children's lunch packs, and for office and factory workers. They are also ideal for hunger-defeating snacks for those on a calorie controlled diet.

The "Weight Maintenance Book" is a guide to maintaining a slimmer figure, particularly for those who are coming off a strict diet programme. It has sections on eating the right foods, lifestyle advice on how to stay slim, along with personal weight record sections for keeping track. Both the book and the bars are only available from the Diet Centre and other Cambridge Counsellors.

They join other new ideas on weight loss available at or from the centre. In addition to the effective combination of motorised toning tables and dietetic products, the availability of a consultation on the Futrex-5000 Body Composition Analyser will enable slimmers to chart their fat loss whilst undergoing a weight loss programme, and there is also a fitness analysis available from the machine.
